Making You Look Great!

About IcyColors

MY WEBSITE DESIGN TRAINING

My formal education, training, and certifications are the result of the excellent facilities and staff at a "New Horizons Computer Learning Center®" as well as the painstaking hours of hard work, research and curious exploration throughout the years. I am continually expanding my knowledge and experience of website design and development as technology moves ahead.

MY CERTIFICATIONS

I currently hold three certifications; "A+", "i-Net+" and "CIW Master Designer". The prerequisite for obtaining the "CIW Master Designer" certification was completing training for "Foundations", "i-Net+", "Site Designer", and "e-Commerce".

MY GOALS AND DESIRE

My goal and desire is to produce professional, high-quality, visually appealing, fast loading websites at an affordable price, that are easy to navigate, search engine friendly, and comply with current W3C HTML, XML, and CSS coding standards for cross-browser operability.

Why You Need A Website

BETTER VISIBILITY

With a professionally designed website, your visibility is world-wide! With the Internet being a major part of doing business these days, your competition, probably has a website. With a website, those looking for your services or products will be able to easily find you when they use their favorite search engine. Are you ready to be found when they look for what you are offering them?

A PROFESSIONAL TOUCH

Having a website will allow you to show off your true colors. Anyone who is serious about their products or services has a website to better communicate what they are all about and what they have to offer. A well designed website will make you look serious about what you want to communicate.

BETTER THAN PRINT ADVERTIZING

Newspaper and phone book ads are expensive and only reach a local readership. A website is global in scope and much more affordable in the long run and will be more detailed than any print ad. Even a basic website can communicate to the world what you do or sell with style and sophistication.

EASIER TO SHARE

Because virtually everyone has Internet access, if you have a website, you can easily share your domain name (either verbally or by business card) to showcase what you are all about.
